Dear Sir,--Yours of the 3d is received. Our works were closed on Friday and Saturday of last week. Hence our inability to get shipments off promptly on receipt of your letter. We expect to ship by freight tonight ²⁰⁰⁰~~1500~~ lbs. of bronze blanks and more will go tomorrow.

We will probably send you tomorrow or next day a case each of nickel and bronze blanks to which we call your especial attention, they being the first of a new lot of metal which we have started since our bids were accepted. We have no reason to think that these are different from those which you have had and used right along, but it has hitherto been our custom in starting in on a new contract to call attention to the first shipment made of metal made expressly for said contract.

I wish you would kindly indicate as nearly as possible the amount of bronze blanks which you would like to have us ship daily and we will try to conform to it.

Yours truly,

Scovill Mfg. Co.
